

Quantum of Soulless

The time has now come for Mankind to reconsider his previous analog state of mind and think about returning to a more humanistic approach in his way of life. This practise should begin at once if we are to engage the existing ravages occurring from the digital dementia that is now running rampant throughout our mechanized society. In order for the "Celestial Being" that resides within our human heart to survive in this current communicative paradigm, it will be necessary to begin a more esoteric understanding of the Star of David; a Matrix that consists of the beginning, the middle, and the end of Man's vibrational whole notes that represent the Consciousness of the Cosmos. This idea concurs with a Pythagorean Theory known as "Harmony of the Spheres". The electromagnetic energies that exist in our Universe involve the movement of our Solar System. They begin with light force strength emanating from the Sun in harmony with a tidal lunar effect derived from the gravitational pull by our Moon. This push/pull symbiosis conjoining Sun and Moon connects to the seven planets beginning at Earth in a vibrational spacing of the spheres representing the seven whole notes, or tones of our musical scale. It is in this manner that we receive the spark of life, and the knowledge that all matter is interconnected and vibrational. We also come to the realization that these vibrations are musical in nature. If we can open our minds with an awareness of the God Matrix math in our daily lives and develop numeracy into our vocabulary, we will enable a frequency channel to our own living Soul and the Collective. The single digit coded math opens up a Hermitron Matrix, or mathematically speaking a self-adjoint matrix equal to its conjugate transpose matrix. It also exhibits qualities of Matrix Algebra and Mechanics, Wave Motion and Quantum Spin. In order for humanity to survive the catastrophic debacle that now lies ahead, it will take more than just a leap of faith and a prayer. I am afraid that Mankind in his altered state of "Being" will now have to learn how to make a Quantum Leap.
